SIM WARS

The Department of Emergency Medicine, on the occasion of its Silver Jubilee and the Diamond Jubilee of St. John's National Academy Of Health Sciences, is pleased to invite you to SIM WARS.

To keep things exciting and academically engaging for everyone, SIM WARS will pit 8 teams against each other navigating realistic emergency simulation scenarios, testing their knowledge, teamwork and ability to think out of the box. Scenarios will involve the simulation of a wide range of cases which present to the ED.

Teams will be judged based on how they approach the case, identify issues, intervene and arrive at a diagnosis - all based on current best practice guidelines.

- To participate in SIM WARS, registration for the entire event is compulsory.
- Teams may contain up to 6 members, who can be postgraduates or trainees from any speciality.
- Team members are not required to be from the same department or institution.
- Participation in the competition is on a first-come first-serve basis.
