Overview

St John's National Academy of Health Sciences (SJNAHS), is one of the finest centres where excellent medical education and patient care with a sense of ethical value is being extended. It aims at implementing value education by instilling service-oriented approach amongst the staff and the students to promote and preserve the health of the community apart from striving to keep up with the knowledge & developments in the medical field.

ISO 15189, the international standard for quality management in medical laboratories, has undergone a revision in 2022. Hence it becomes necessary that all laboratory personnel including students to familiarize themselves with the latest requirements for quality management, technical processes, and competence in medical laboratories, as stated in the revised standard. This workshop is designed to equip all with the knowledge and skills necessary for accreditation as per the updated ISO 15189 guidelines and thereby produce highly competent laboratory professionals who can contribute to maintaining and improving the quality of medical laboratory services.

The Department of Biochemistry is happy to conduct a Three-day workshop on Approach towards laboratory accreditation- an insight into ISO 15189: 2022 as a part of Diamond Jubilee Celebrations this year .

Quality is everybody's responsibility
